A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Norway people.

Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times, when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed attention, I got Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Stone's Drug Store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess of uric acid and in a short time I felt much better."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 6, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I still endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and my confidence in them is as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's when I feel in need of them and always get fine results."

Get Your Hudson Super-Six Now While You Can

Present Prices Can Not Last Long
51 Cars Have Already Advanced

From the standpoint of real value, the Hudson Super-Six is the lowest-priced car on the market.

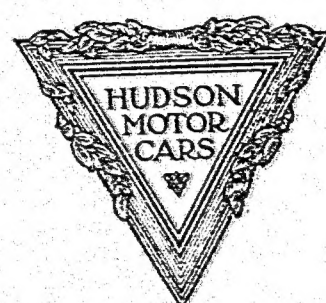

Recent price advances on 51 cars have entirely upset the usual standards by which motor car values have been determined. In each price group cars naturally found their own place. But now, because some makers must supply their material wants in the present high market and because Hudson has a limited supply bought last year, the selling prices of cars do not indicate their values.

Those companies which faced the necessity of buying materials in the high market had to advance their prices in proportion. It added as much as $100 to $700 to the retail price of cars. It forced former $1,200 and $1,400 cars up to approximately the price of a Hudson Super-Six.

Hudson prices for the time being remain unchanged. Judged by today's material market the Super-Six would have to sell at approximately $2,000. Today you can get a seven-passenger phaeton at $1,650. Such prices can not be continued when the supply of materials now on hand is exhausted. You save money by buying your Hudson Super-Six now.

People never compare the Super-Six with cars sold at or near its price. It has always been likened to cars selling at hundreds of dollars above its price.

Conservation of Heat

How to Save One-Third of Your Fuel

Install in connection with your coal heater, a Jewell Heat Controller. This consists of two parts, a Thermostat with time clock attachment, which is placed on the wall of one of the rooms, and a Motor, which operates the valves or dampers of the heater and is placed at a convenient place in the cellar.

What It Will Do

You merely have to set the dial on the face of the Thermostat at the degree of temperature you wish to maintain in your rooms and the Controller keeps them heated within one degree of the mark set. With an even burning fire, much coal is saved and danger of overheating is avoided. The controller operates the dampers as well as could be done by a person staying all the time by the heater. As it will also open or close the dampers at any desired time, it makes it possible to have cool rooms at night and warm ones in the morning. It also enables you to keep a low temperature for several hours during the day if you are to be away and yet have warm rooms when you return. This means a large saving of coal and absolute protection against fire danger from overheating.

These Controllers are made in many styles and prices, from ten to fifty dollars. Sold and installed by

TRIP THROUGH OTISFIELD, CASCO, POLAND AND OXFORD.

I have been to Bell Hill Church, Otisfield once more and gazed on the surrounding country from off its broad stone steps. One split stone is 17 ft. 4 in. long, 23 inches high and 10 inches thick. This was used for underpinning. The house is painted white and the blinds a dark blue and looks fine.

Old fashioned benches are in the nearby brick schoolhouse and the building opposite is nicely painted, but unoccupied. Looks as though there was a good farm attached. George A. Turner of Oxford Old Corner Store fame is the reputed owner and wishes to sell the property. Wonder if it is his old home place. I think he came from this town.

Am told many of the Otisfield farms are occupied by Finns. Crops look well though some have been hard hit by the frost. Apple crop is small, perhaps 25 to 30 per cent of an average.

Charles Davis on Allen Hill, Oxford, has more apples on his trees than I've seen anywhere in Oxford county. Some of his trees are so heavily loaded the limbs are propped up. I don't understand this as many of these trees bore a big crop last year. I notice two or three limbs of a tree heavy with apples and the rest of the top fruitless. What can be the reason? Occasionally only one bearing limb to a tree. There must be a cause. Will have to get Prof. G. A. Yeston of Norway who knows a great deal about apples, to explain this to me.

Two gentlemen, passed the meridian of life, were leisurely driving over Bell Hill in a horse drawn vehicle and I engaged them in conversation and learned that those granite slabs I so much admired at the church came from a quarry about a mile down the road from a farm once owned by F. H. Whitman of Norway and later owned by the man with whom I was talking. He said you could split out a rock a mile long on that farm and as wide and as thick as you please. He afterwards modified it a bit and cut the distance down. One of the gentlemen was A. H. Nutting of Sanford which is only 5 miles from Sanford which he says is the biggest town in the State, his brother, Dr. J. D. Nutting of Hallowell, was with him and both were raised near Spurr's Corner. The latter married a sister of the late A. F. Andrews of Norway and of course stock in the shoe factory way and course stock in the shoe factory and of course was glad to see me and make inquiries regarding the value of his investment. He did not seem disappointed on being told it was valueless.

Both expressed regret on seeing so many deserted farms in their native town. Lilac bushes near a hole-in-the-ground are numerous in Otisfield. It marks the place of a once happy home with fields and pastures now growing to pine. This is a valuable crop, but it adds little to population, community quiltings and sewing bees.

Casco Village and Webb's Mills look much as they did a fourth of a century ago. Water and house are about the same and the shade trees bigger. The fence around Rigby Park is not as good neither is the Nutting house at the end of the road. The race course is in fair condition and is still used to try out speed afflicted horses of the vicinity.

Walter went round the course with Melissa, not for speed purposes, but to let me see and hear and think of the sights of long ago when life, youth and gaiety abounded with score cards and pencils selling for a half dime each.

As I was passing, former Deputy Sheriff E. A. Barton crossed the road from his barn to the house and I hailed him. He had three hen's eggs in one hand and stepped spy for one celebrating his eightieth birthday. Of course I went to the house to see the daughter and grandchildren and to talk with our correspondent. I wish more news and more subscribers could be had from this vicinity. The arrival of the baby has not been announced to our readers. To the wife of H. C. McAllister, a boy or girl, seven weeks old the day I was there. It is done now and should have been before. I stopped at this house during one cattle fair. Merritt Welch, Shine Briggs and Frankforter Johnson were there. I recall that Shortie Cook, Norway, bar, recall that I had scooped several hundred dollars at the race course. Lively times those days! It was a composite mixture of—well, I'll not say less I should give offence. Sometimes the orchestra played all night at Little Rigby in the early nineties.

"Great men live in great houses" is a relative expression of comparison and not always true, but in the case of Senator Bert Fernald of West Poland it is true. He has the largest barn and best house in the community to say nothing of a well groomed door yard and a good sized flag. This is the biggest star spangled banner seen in a forty mile cross lot spin and he is the greatest man in all this section, if not in all the state. I am decidedly of that opinion. If you don't believe it, investigate. He has such an influence the frost didn't strike the sweet corn field in his part of the town.

Corn packing in the shop of Fernald-Keene-True and company had ceased when I came along, but there was abundant evidences of recent activities. Many of the adjacent corn fields had been untouched by frost or at least it looked that way from the road. Beans over the ridge were as green as in vines over the influence of the Senator on the weather.

Patriotism and Business

Every good citizen at this time should do his share toward strengthening the Federal Reserve Banking System which our Government has created with its billion dollars of resources to stand back of its member Banks and all their depositors.

You can contribute directly to the strength of this system, and at the same time secure its protection, by depositing your money with us, since part of every dollar you deposit with us goes directly into the new system, where it is always ready for you when wanted.

This is a suggestion for prompt action.

RUMFORD CENTER
Napoleon Jackson Ends Life
Napoleon Jackson, 80, a farmer, blew off his head with a shotgun in the midst of a roaring bonfire. Smoke from the fire attracted the attention of wood choppers who reached the scene in time to save the bones from which nearly all of the flesh had been burned. His identity was established by his hat which together with the top of his head had been blown several feet from the fire.
Mr. Jackson has spent the greater part of his life in this town and was well known.
Sunday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock Mr. Jackson took his shotgun and started off towards the woods. He walked a distance of about two miles from his home, into the deep woods. Finally when he reached a small clearing, he gathered brush and broken limbs and built a roaring bonfire. When the fire was well under way, it appears that he jumped into the middle of it, and with his shot gun, blew off the top of his head. His hat and the top of his head were found some distance from the fire, and were the only means of identification that remained.
At about the time the tragedy was discovered by woodsmen, relatives were instituting a search for him. They telephoned to the Charles Farnum place, giving a minute description of the man and his dress. Their description of his hat left no question regarding the identity of the man.
Chief of Police John Dennis and Medical Examiner W. T. Rowe, were notified and visited the place where the body was found. They decided it to be a clear case of suicide.
Besides the widow, three sons and two daughters survive.
While Mr. Jackson had been a farmer nearly all his life, for a few years when he was a young man, he was engaged in prospecting in mining districts in the West.

Leslie J. Kendall

Leslie Jasper Kendall, a highly respected citizen, passed away at 2 o'clock, Tuesday morning, Sept. 25, at his home, 35 Winslow street, Everett, Mass., after a short illness which developed into pneumonia. Every effort was made to alleviate his suffering and restore him to health, but they were futile. The end came peacefully.

Mr. Kendall was born April 2, 1855, in Newry, Sunday River Valley, Oxford County, and was the third son of the late Justus J. and Maria A. (Merrill) Kendall. His boyhood and early manhood were spent in that place and vicinity.

In the late seventies he went to Boston and has been in continuous business at the Boston & Maine Produce Market. His leisure hours were spent in giving expression to his natural genius and he has produced violins of superior tone and finish, a grandfather's clock and several pieces of cabinet work attest to his ability and infinite patience in handicraft. He was a great lover of nature and music.

Sept. 27, 1887, he married Margaret J. Maher of Chatham, N. B., at St. Mary's Church, Charlestown, Mass., Rev. William F. Powers officiating. Two children were born to them, Leslie Gilmore, who resides with his parents, and Frederick Foster, who passed away May 16, 1905, at the age of 12 years and 7 months.

Mr. Kendall was a man of sterling worth, loved and respected by all. The loss to his family is irreparable and deeply mourned by his relatives and friends.

Thursday, Sept. 27, 1917, the day he was laid to rest, was the 30th anniversary of their marriage. Among the relatives present at the funeral was Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Kendall and family, Everett, Mass.; Herbert M. Kendall and daughter, Ella E. Kendall, Newry, Sunday River Valley; Mrs. A. E. (Kendall) Grover, Norway; Barton A. Smith, South Portland; Mrs. Winifred (Kendall) Chase, West Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. Mildred (Kendall) Baker, Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. Kendall's sister, Nellie Maher; sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Carey, New York; Tracy Little, a native of Maine and close friend, now of Boston.

His business associates attended in a body. The floral offerings were beautiful from relatives, friends and business associates, and bore mute testimony of love and respect.

PICK UPS ON WHEELS

South Arm, Richardson Lake isn't what it used to be. The road leading is better especially that portion which is subsidized by the State. This is proper and as it should be. A good road there is necessary.

Robert's Hotel was burnt three years ago last January and Mrs. Graves and Burgess lost what they had in it. They built small log cabin camps nearby and are doing business in spite of the high cost of living. More camps are to be built for next season.

They have eight row boats and two motor boats. The latter were out of commission Sept. 24 and I did not visit Metellus Brook. Good catches are grounds after dark. I once got a trout weighing seven and one-half pounds near Metellus Point and am now looking for another.

Camp register shows a long list of fishermen who have been here this season. Bob and Mrs. Seavey, Ike Wait, Capt. Nash, Postmaster DeCoster and many other familiar names were seen. Mother and I have our names enrolled, but only one fish to our credit. This was a small one taken with a fly off the pier, Tuesday, Sept. 26, before breakfast. A sizeable trout flirted with the fly, but would not take it.

Walter crossed Ellis River over the Iron Bridge near the great works of the McCullis Nickle, Paint and Mineral Fertilizer derricks and crushing machines.

A Boston bank is to sell this property sometime this month, for the benefit of bond holders and will not consider any bid less than $50,000.00 on the start and you must deposit a $5,000.00 certified check along with your offer.

Big construction undertaking is progressing at Rumford Falls and has been for the past 25 years. "The Falls" is an enormous stone quarry which is now being reinforced with cement and iron for the conversion of water into electric power. Surely, Rumford is a huge power station with high priced board and building lots.

I was invited to inspect the new county building, but did not have time, preferring to call on Editor Tracy L. Barker of the Times and look over his print shop—the like of which is seldom seen. Barker is a veritable Horace Greeley, working overtime for the uplift of the community and the ultimate conversion of the world to the doctrines of high tariff. This is commendable. How well he is succeeding I cannot say as the high cost of newsprint a long time ago caused him to cut off exchanges and sever diplomatic relations with competitors.

Col. Geo. D. Bisbee was seen in his private office looking over samples for a suit of clothes and before him on the desk was a photograph of his grandson, Capt. Spaulding Bisbee in uniform, who is in command of a regiment of 250 men.

I was told that his son, Stanley, was able to come down stairs and set at the table for the first time last Sunday, (Sept. 23d). He had recently submitted to the amputation of a portion of a leg and was getting on nicely.

Col. Bisbee expressed a desire to visit Quimby Pond up Rangley way and catch some trout. Both he and Stanley had been there this summer and had good catches—six fish only can be killed in a day. He stops at Scott's Camps and speaks well of the place.

Ex-County Attorney, Ralph Parker, was so busy expounding the intricacies of law to clients as to lead me to think he ought to have a vacation. I did not suggest this as it would have been impolite.

Judge A. E. Stearns was out, consequently I did not see him. I did inquire about his son, who is in the ambulance service, somewhere in France and was told he was getting on nicely when last heard from.

The Judge is out of Swift River Lumbering and is now devoting all his energy to law, real estate and finance.

Dinner was got at Hotel Stanley, Dixfield, and John F. Harlow and sister were seen. I tried to find a barber, but it was a shut-up day for them.

A visit to Mr. Harlow's office revealed a good many desks and filing cabinets and a big equipment of modern office machinery. Certainly the marketing of toothpicks and law is attended with a good deal of detail in this locality. I begin to see some reason for the enormous town tax assessed against him. It is almost double that of any other person or corporation in the town.

Mr. Harlow has a son, distinguishable from him by age and the word "Junior" somewhere in France. John was too modest to say anything about the absent son from other sources however, but learned from him by age and the word "Junior" somewhere in France. John was too modest to say anything about the absent son from other sources however, but learned from him by age and the word "Junior" somewhere in France.

He is in the ambulance service and on the expiration of his enlistment is thinking of going into the Aviation Corps where there is less hazard than in his present service.

MINISTER IS CANDIDATE

Native of Newry Runs for Bay State Legislature

Rev. Levi M. Powers, D. D., pastor of the Universalist church at Gloucester, has announced his candidacy for representative to the Massachusetts legislature from the 21st Essex County district comprising five of the eight wards in Gloucester.

His opponent will be Representative James E. Tolman, and he will run as a candidate of the Democratic Progressive coalition.

Dr. Powers, in his announcement, says that while attending recently a hearing of the Recess Committee on Health Insurance in Boston, he was told, in effect: "It's not much use for you to come here; you represent no one." To which he replied: "Perhaps I do not represent someone. I think I represent many who have bent no paid attorneys to this commission. I think I will try and come to you with a commission from the people to help the Governor realize his wishes for adequate and human care of the sick and aged."

Dr. Powers says that for 2 years he has been preaching "Brotherhood," and that it is a great work, but "that he has become impatient at the way every law that would help the realization of brotherhood is being fought."

Dr. Powers is a native of the town of Newry.

The Department of Maine Staff of Officers Ladies' G. A. R. and officers from the different circles gave a reception in honor of their National President, Mrs. Wallace R. Tarbox and the National Secretary, Mrs. A. B. Perkins of Augusta, Thursday evening in Assembly Hall, Waterville.

The hall was beautifully decorated with flags, ferns and cut flowers. Draw's orchestra discoursed fine music and delicious ices were served. Many addresses of congratulation were delivered by different guests and Mrs. Charles Hayes, Department President, in behalf of the officers presented Mrs. Tarbox with a very handsome wrist watch. She made a very pleasing speech in which she expressed the high esteem and love the whole department felt for Mrs. Tarbox and their pride and pleasure in having her elevated to the highest office in the order.

Mrs. Florence Wallace presented Mrs. Perkins with a beautiful tourmaline ring from the department and also expressed pleasure at having two National officers in Maine.

Much credit is due W. S. Heath Circle, Waterville, for the arrangements for the reception.

There was quite a freight wreck on the Mountain division of the Maine Central during the night, Thursday, Oct. 11, which piled up seven cars on the track between Fryeburg and Conway Center. The Thompson's truck wrecking crew were summoned and they worked most of the day yesterday. They got a hole through the wreck at about 6:30 a. m., and the trains were passed along with about an hour's delay. It took most of the day, however, to clear up the pieces. No person was injured in the accident, but the money damage to the railroad property was fairly heavy.

"Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?"

SECRETARY McADOO.

To those of us who have the privilege of remaining at home, far away from the firing line in France, there is but one choice. We must back the boys in the trenches with every dollar we possess. We must not be slackers with our dollars. Every one of us who buys a Liberty Bond is doing his bit for his Country.

Behind the Liberty Bond promise to pay is all the strength, power and wealth of the United States. Think what this means. Interest at 4 per cent. is paid on these Liberty Bonds twice each year, either by check on the registered bonds or by little printed slips, like tickets, attached to the coupon bonds.

These printed slips are called coupons, and will be paid by any Bank on or after the date printed on them. On the $50.00 bond, each coupon calls for $1, on the $100.00 bond, $2, on the $500.00 bond, $10 and on the $1,000.00 bond, $20.

You can buy these bonds by cash in full or in installments as follows:

DON'T HESITATE AS I DID, SHE TELLS

Portland Woman, After Her Experience, Gladly Advises Others.

"I used to try to force myself to eat to try to keep up my strength, but I always regretted it," said Louise Larkin, of R. F. D. No. 4, Falmouth Foreside. "After I ate I would be miserable with gas, bloating and pains," she continued.

"I had stomach trouble for more than a year and no appetite and the gas that formed seemed to force its way up around my heart, and under my left arm and shoulder blade. I also had pains in my limbs that I thought was rheumatism. I would tire easily when walking and would have to rest. I was very run down and my nerves were in bad condition. Even a door slamming would make me jump as if I had been shot. I could only sleep until three or four o'clock in the morning and this made me weaker and worried me, as without my full rest it was hard for me to get through my work and the day seemed endless."

"My color was not good and I was losing weight. I was very worried when I happened to see some of the wonderful Tanlac stories by others who had suffered as I was. I decided to try this Tanlac and got so much relief from the first bottle that I got another right away."

"It drove away all the bad symptoms as I have told of. I only had a slight sensation under my arm and that only once or twice. My color improved and I began to gain weight. I slept well the whole night through and woke up full of energy and ambition to begin the day I felt contented and did not worry. I was so happy over the change that I was glad to tell my experience for others and advise them not to hesitate as I did but to try Tanlac right away."

McKay-Proulx

Thomas McKay-Proulx and Amy Proulx were united in marriage Saturday morning, Oct. 13, at the Universalist parsonage, South Paris, by Rev. Chester Gore Miller, the double ring service being used. The bride's traveling suit was gray broadcloth with fur trimmings and hat to match. They left immediately by automobile for parts unknown and will make their home in Providence, R. I. Mrs. McKay is the daughter of Mrs. Joshua Yeaton of Norway and a native of Yorkshire, England, having been in this country four years. Two years were spent in Providence, R. I. and the remainder passed here. She has been employed as compositor in the Advertiser Office a few years ago and since at the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McKay of this town. He was educated in the Norway schools and employed as shoemaker in Auburn and the Carroll, Jellerson Co. factory, Norway.

Samuel Yeaton, 31 years, died at his home in Ripley, Ohio, Sept. 19, from being gored by an enraged bull. He was born in Buckfield August 26, 1836, the oldest of eleven children.

When a young man he lived in Norway nearly two years and will be remembered by many. He migrated to Ohio in 1859 and enlisted April 23, 1861 in the 12th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, serving 3 years and 3 months.

He married Lida Espey in 1866, who died March 4, 1869, leaving a daughter, Cora Steel Yeaton, a lovely companion, who remained with him until the end.

Mr. Yeaton was industrious and thoroughly honest in all dealings. He was in excellent health and retained his mental faculties to a wonderful degree. His war record is of the best and many hours were often spent reciting the story of the big battles at G. A. R. conventions or camp fires.

After absence of nearly fifty years he came East about fifteen years ago for a visit and returned again in 1916 for a few weeks' stay at his early home in Buckfield and with the brother and sisters in this locality.

Besides the daughter, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Larabee of Exeter, N. H., and Mrs. W. H. Briggs of Harrison and two brothers, Joshua Yeaton of Norway, Simeon Yeaton of Oxford. Burial was in Maplewood Cemetery at Ripley, Ohio.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

October Term

In the Civil case of Eunice Ridlon of Hiram vs. Fred C. Small, for damages including the price of boards saved from timber cut upon land claimed by the plaintiff has been settled by the jury who awarded Mrs. Ridlon $270. Elias Smith for Mr. Ridlon, James S. Wright for defendant.

Benjamin N. Wells was given an award over Ralph L. Herrick for the recovery of $350 which Wells claimed Herrick owed him on a transaction for a house during the remainder of his life. The amount included personal property and deposits in the bank.

It appeared that after the transaction had been made, Herrick it is claimed, made living uncomfortable and Wells, who is far along in years and the boarder returned to a camp where he had previously lived. It was charged that Herrick took advantage of Wells' ignorance and secured his signature to certain papers that gave practically everything Wells possessed to the defendant.

The jury was unable to throw much light on the facts at issue and their daughter, Mabel Herrick, eight years old, was excused from testifying by Judge Cornish. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in about 15 minutes.

Eugene F. Smith for Wells and Albert J. Stearns for Herrick.

Eugene McKee vs. Virgil H. Littlefield. E. F. Smith for plaintiff, A. J. Stearns for defendant occupied a short time.

The parties live in Stonham, and McKee had worked for Littlefield driving team. The suit was brought to recover a balance of $48.97 due McKee as wages for labor as teamster during the summer of 1916. The defense was that McKee was drunk and that about the middle of August an oral contract was made between them that if McKee again became intoxicated he would forfeit whatever was due him. On the 7th or 8th of September he was again under the influence of liquor and Littlefield discharged him. This suit was brought to recover the wages then due. McKee denied having made such a contract as testified to by Littlefield. Witnesses for the defense testified to his having told them that he had made such a contract.

No question was made as to the amount of the account, which was due unless it was nullified by the contract alleged.

Verdict for defendant, and to special inquiry submitted to the jury by the court, asking whether the contract was alleged by the defense, the jury replied, "Yes."

CRIMINAL BUSINESS.

The grand jury completed its work after being in session three days and were discharged for the term. Indictments made public were as follows.

Albert Unton, alias Anton Albrick, illegal transportation.

Philip Ash, assault and battery.

Step. Smith, alias Steve Bistick.

William H. Wheeler, forgery.

Joseph Johnson, larceny.

Victor Kneeland, larceny.

Harry J. Anderson, alias Harry Adams and Harry G. Bushman, alias Hughie Bingham, two indictments for breaking, entering and larceny.

Thomas Haman and John Miller, breaking, entering and larceny.

Thomas Alfredson, Harry Weiner and George Morrison, breaking, entering and larceny.

The process of calling the continued criminal docket and making some disposition of the cases which it contained occupied most of Saturday. What made the work of disposing of the matter slower was the fact that County Attorney Dyer is now on his first term and that he was not familiar with the cases.

Louise Thomas, Columbia Day. At supper she entertained Elton Tubbs, Elmer Smith, Miriam Pike, Catherine Richardson, Margaret, Elizabeth and Gertrude Bruce, Evelyn Saleeby, Mona Reed and Louise Thomas. June Smith could not come because of illness.

Mrs. Augusta Kneeland of Augusta was a guest of Mrs. Lillian Swan at H. L. Libby's, Saturday.

AN OPERATION AVERTED

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I soon noticed a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartwell Street, Phila., Pa.

BROWNFIELD

A Break in Jewelry Store

Driven from the woods into the road by a posse of 15 citizens a short time after they had made a break at the jewelry store of Almon F. Johnson in Brownfield, three young men giving their names as Thomas Alfredo of Bridgwood, N. J., Harry Weiner of Jersey City and George Morrison of Brockton, Mass., were captured and taken to the Oxford County Jail at South Paris by Deputy Sheriff Stanley. The trio secured only about $5 worth of goods at the Johnson place, but it is reported that when searched at South Paris they had other jewelry which is believed to have been secured in breaks elsewhere.

The break was made in broad daylight, at about 7 o'clock Thursday, Oct. 11, and was discovered by Fred Gould, who was passing the store just as the three men were making their exit from a back window. The men ran toward the woods and Gould immediately gave the alarm. In a few minutes villagers had the three surrounded, and as they closed in on them the men came out into the roadway and were seized. They were turned over to the deputy sheriff, who took them to the county seat.

NORTH LOVELL

Will Sanborn, who has been working for Clinton Milliken on the cottage, has finished his work and returned to his home in Stow. The chimney that Mr. Sanborn has built is worth going to see. It is built of common rocks and cement, is built on a solid foundation six feet square, has a fine fire place with a key-stone arch, a rock and cement mantle piece and hearth. Altogether it is a fine substantial piece of work of which any mason should feel proud.

Mrs. Susie Gammon and Mrs. Jennie Lawrence of Norway visited at Perley McKen's for a week. They are at H. B. Eastman's at North Fryeburg this week and will return to North Lovell later.

Will Sanborn has put in a cement bull head for Perley McKen, recently.

He leaves one brother, Augustus McAllister of Bemis, four sisters, Mrs. Cora Butters, Mrs. Viola Stone, Mrs. Lottie Butters and Mrs. Millie Butters and other relatives and friends to miss him. Comforting words were spoken by the Rev. C. E. Fisher. His brother Odd follows and members of Keweenaw Lake Grange to which orders he belonged, were in attendance at the obsequies. ### PUBLIC SAFETY MEASURES

Sometime between Oct. 28 and Nov. 4, the United States Food Administration, through its local chairman, Robert P. Bickford and his associates, will ask every woman in Norway who cooks food to sign the national pledge card. The war will be won by the side having the greatest supply of food. The Allies as well as the Central Empires, are short of food. If they can make up their deficit from the United States there is no question but what Germany will be whipped. Already our government has applied the screws to Germany by preventing any shipments of food stuff to so-called neutral countries, which would ultimately find their way into Germany. But our country must do more; we must supply more than four hundred million bushels of wheat to our allies in Europe. Normally we export not more than a hundred million.

If the housewives of America will sign the Hoover pledge card and live up to it they have contributed to a successful termination of the war, and in doing this they are not asked to suffer hard ships. They are simply asked to pledge themselves to substitute certain foods to a certain degree for wheat, sugar and a few other items and to waste nothing. Many families are practically economizing in this direction already because of the abnormally high prices. They will sign the card willingly. The sacrifice by those who have not taken the matter seriously will, it is hoped, readily follow. The saving of a pound of wheat per capita per week will solve the wheat problem, assuming each person consumes five pounds a week.

Some will be inclined to consider the pledge card lightly, as being a fad. No error could be more fatal than this. The U. S. Food Administration with all its state organizations would not spend precious time in starting this conservation drive if the need were not imperative. Remember the Allies are fighting our fight till we can get armies into shape, and the more speedily Germany is disheartened and the more the fewer American boys will have to die. So sign the card. If you're skipped in the canvass it will be by oversight. In that event it is your duty to demand a card and file it. Let there be no food slackers in Norway, for never did the work of the individual count as now.

Waste less food. Preach and practise the "gospel of the clean plate." Help the United States Food Administration. Practice economy in the kitchen and at the table. Help supply our comrades in arms and our Allies with the food they urgently need.

Food conservation is the duty of every American. Wheat, beef and sugar are urgently needed for shipment abroad, for the sustenance of the American and Allied forces in the field. Co-operate with the United States Food Administration. Patronize our local food producers and lessen the need of transportation. Buy Maine-made products. American people are not asked to starve themselves. Eat plenty but wisely, and without waste. Do your bit by co-operating with the U. S. Food Administration.

Watch out for the waste of food in your community and home. The U. S. Food Administration requests the aid of every man, woman and child in winning this war.

Urge your neighbors to waste less food to cook no more than necessary, to eat less wheat and meat—and practice what you preach.

What are you doing to help win the war? Will you help by practicing economy in the kitchen and at the table? Co-operate with the U. S. Food Administration.

Perhaps your boy is, or will soon be fighting "somewhere in France." Will you help to feed him by wasting less at home? The U. S. Food Administration requests your aid.

One ounce of meat. If we will save one ounce of meat per person per day, we can send our Allies and our boys in Europe what they need. Help the U. S. Food Administration.

Will you waste less? We must send more wheat, more meat, more butter and milk, more sugar to our Allies, if we are to win this war.

The usual American consumption of sugar per person is just double that of France. Will you do your bit by using less, wasting less?

Our war and your war! Those of us who cannot shoulder a gun can shoulder some responsibility and waste less food. Will you?

If we reduce our consumption of wheat flour from five pounds to four a week per person, we can send our Allies what they need. The U. S. Food Administration asks your help.

One pound of wheat saved per week per person would mean the saving of 100 million pounds per week throughout the country, the solution of the problem. Will you help?

For the sustenance of the American and allied forces in the field, and the relief of our people in France and Belgium, we must send more wheat, more beef and sugar abroad. Will you waste less, so that we can?

Hugh Pendexter, Oxford County Publicity Com.

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

A TREAT COMING

The readers of the Norway Advertiser have a treat in store for them soon. A very interesting article is to appear in the Advertiser entitled, "Looking Backward in Bolster's Mills," written by Granville Fernald of South Waterford. He tells of many interesting places and events and acquaints us with the people who lived in that vicinity a few brief years ago, many of whom are the ancestors of the present inhabitants. It is worth reading. Watch for it.

WHAT CAN YOU CAN?

A week or so ago one of the canning experts of the United States Department of Agriculture reported that a group of girls in a small southern community had this year added their bit to the country's food supply by putting up 7,200 quarts of tomatoes, 2,850 quarts of peas, 324 quarts of okra and tomatoes mixed, 260 quarts of soup mixture, and 850 quarts of guavas. The canning season for the North is now upon us. If each northern community a group of girls were to follow the good example of these southern girls, the H. would soon disappear from the H. C. of L.
